Bill:

I would urge you to reconsider this invitation. These are really good people and would be prepared to listen to you on a strictly informal basis.

Dear Stan:

Will this really be the last word? I can understand that it may well be, for I know how heavy Mr. Casey's workload is. But would you be kind enough to confirm whether or not there is no hope? Many thanks.

With all good wishes, I remain,

Yours cordially,

Joseph A. Morris
General Counsel

Dear Mr. Morris:

Thank you for inviting Director Casey to address the General Counsels Committee of the Federal Bar Association at a luncheon meeting in Washington.

Mr. Casey has asked me to extend his regrets. Due to travel plans and a full schedule of official duties, he must decline the honor.

We do, however, wish your meeting and members all success.

Sincerely,

Dear Mr. Casey:

As the 1984 chairman of the General Counsels Committee of the Federal Bar Association, I would like to extend an invitation on behalf of the chief legal officers of the Government for you to address one of our regular luncheon meetings. Morris Abrams, Chairman of the Civil Rights Commission, will be our guest on June 19th and Mr. J. P. Bolduc, Senior Vice President of W. R. Grace & Co. and Chief Operating Officer of the President's Private Sector Survey on Cost Control, will speak on July 17th. Previous speakers have included Fred Fielding, Ed Meese, Charles M. Lichenstein, John Lehman, Rex Lee and K. William O'Connor.

We would be delighted if you, a distinguished lawyer and a leading figure in our Administration, would consent to add your name to this illustrious list and speak on a topic of your choosing.

August 21st, September 18th, October 16th, November 20th, and December 11th are dates that are available. If none of these dates is convenient, I am sure we can schedule our luncheon to suit your schedule. We meet at the National Lawyers Club, 1815 H Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. It is our practice to serve drinks from 11:45 a.m. until 12:45 p.m., when lunch is served.

I very much hope you will be able to accept. I can be reached at 202/632-4632.

Cordially yours,

Joseph A. Morris
General Counsel
and Chairman
General Counsels Committee

MEMORANDUM FOR: Director of Central Intelligence

FROM: George V. Lauder
Director, Public Affairs

SUBJECT: Proposed Speaking Engagement

1. Action Requested: Accept or decline the invitation to address the General Counsels Committee of the Federal Bar Association at a luncheon meeting at the Lawyers Club in Washington.

2. Background: Joseph A. Morris, who is both OPM General Counsel and Chairman of the General Counsels Committee, has proposed several dates in the fall for a luncheon meeting at which you are invited to address a subject of your choice. The invitation appears opposite.

3. Recommendation: None. If you wish to address this group, you would join a distinguished company of speakers.
